

INSPECTOR MORSE PUB CRAWL.

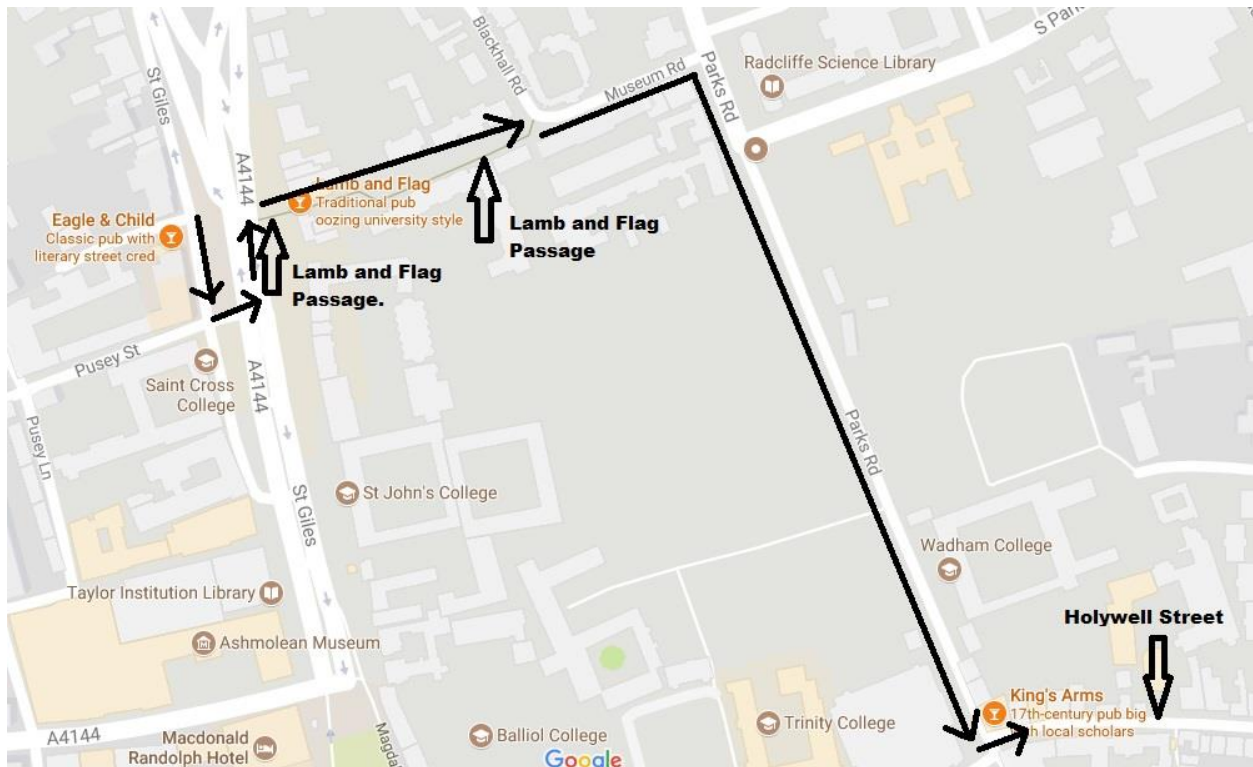

The Morse bar was used as a location in The Wench is Dead and The Wolvercote Tongue.

The second pub to visit is the Eagle and Child which was used in the episodes, Second Time Around and The Way Through the Woods.

The next port of call is The King's Arms. This was used as a location in the episode, The Secret of Bay 5B.

If you are still feeling thirsty while on route to the King's Arms you could stop in at The Lamb and Flag located on Lamb and Flag Passage. However, I don't believe it was ever used in a Morse episode as a location.

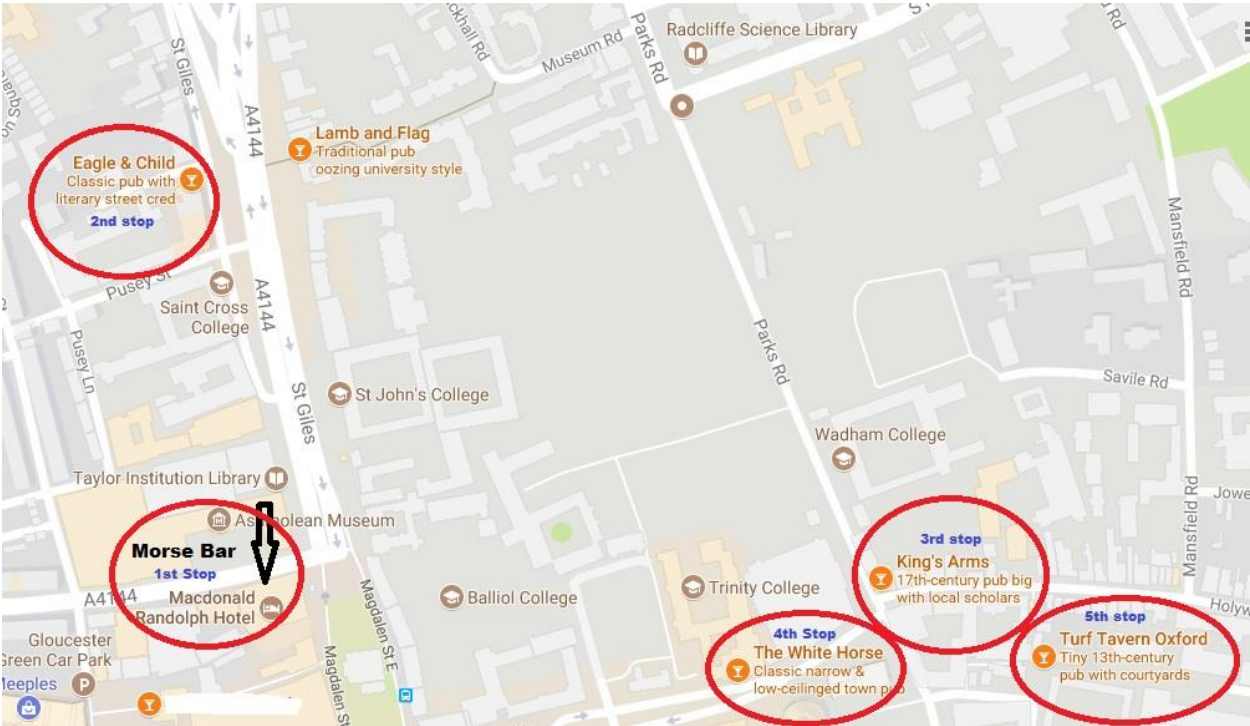

Onwards and upwards our next location is The White Horse. This pub was used as a location in Absolute Conviction, Dead of Jericho, Deadly Slumber, Last Seen Wearing, Service of All the Dead and The Secret of Bay 5B.

After The White Horse the next pub is the Turf Tavern. The Turf was used in the episodes, The Silent World of Nicholas Quinn and Absolute Conviction.

Below is a map of all five pubs.

If you are still standing after visiting the five pubs there is a sixth but it is a little further away. That pub is the Bear Inn which was used as a location in the episode Absolute Conviction. However, Morse and Lewis never drank there. In the episode Lewis is following what he believes to be an escaped prisoner.

Below is how to get from the Turf Tavern to the Bear Inn.

